Chesterfield Drops to Third In League North, Beaten 3-0

LONDON (CP Cable) — Chesterfield dropped from first to third place in the League North table as Blackpool and Sheffield Wednesday scored shutout wins in today's British football schedule.

Blackpool won 3-0 from Chesterfield, and Sheffield Wednesday scored a 2-0 win from Bury. They are tied on points, with 24 each, one more than the former leader, but Blackpool was given the top of the standing because of a better goal average.

Everton still is fourth, following a 6 to 1 win from Stoke City, but Liverpool dropped to seventh behind Newcastle United and Manchester City when beaten by Huddersfield Town 3 to 1.

Charlton Athletic maintained its two-point lead in League South by an easy 5 to 1 victory over Plymouth Argyle — the lowest club in the league, with only five points since the season began. Thirty thousand fans watched Aston Villa hold second place with a 3 to 1 win from Nottingham Forest, and Birmingham City won 4 to 0 from Southampton to stay third.

But it was not the top teams which drew the biggest crowd. The Chelsea-Brentford League South match drew 45,000, and this was unmatched elsewhere. Chelsea won 4 to 2.

U.S. Command Expected Japs To Hit Seattle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States high command expected the Japanese to bomb airplane factories in Seattle, Wash., and San Diego, Calif., rather than Pearl Harbor, in 1941, Gen. George C. Marshall disclosed today.

Questioned by the joint congressional Pearl Harbor investigating committee, the War-time U.S. Chief of Staff testified that he and other high officers thought this way early in December, 1941:

"I assumed, Guam would be taken — probably Wake, though taking Wake Island would be more difficult. There was a possibility an effort would be made to strike at the Panama Canal, our air plants in Seattle and San Diego."

Gen. Marshall said he thought "the most probable" form of the Japanese assault would be what actually happened — a blow at Hawaii.

At that time the aircraft industry on the west coast was starting to reach high production, although quantity output had not yet reached the armed forces.

Marshall told of his prewar views under questioning of representative Gearhart (Rep., Calif.).

Gearhart repeatedly asked why Gen. Marshall had not taken more notice of Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short's message that he had placed the Hawaiian garrison on only a "sabotage" alert Nov. 28, 1941. Gen. Short gave this information in replying to a message on Nov. 27 that hostile action was possible.

OPPORTUNITY THEN

"That was my opportunity to intervene and I didn't take it," Gen. Marshall replied frankly. "Just w. v. I don't know."

He observed that Lt. Gen. Leonard T. Gerow, former chief of the War Plans Division, had assumed full responsibility for any War Department failure to send additional warnings to Gen. Short. "I greatly admired his attitude," Marshall commented.

"We think in thousands now," he said, "but 100 then (1941) was a very large concentration of bombers. I felt that if we had 100 four-engine bombers in the Philippines, Japan would not have dared to attack the Philippines."

Gen. Marshall volunteered earlier that he thought Japan might never have attacked the United States had Tokyo's war lords waited until January, 1942, instead of going ahead on Dec. 7, 1941.

His reasoning was that the Japanese, apparently, scheduled their attack to come at the time of an expected German triumph in Russia, and in January that expectation had dimmed.

Family of Six Flees Fire

The family of George W. Offen, Cedar Grove, Markham, Ont., owe their lives to the cries of Wendy, six-month-old baby of the family, held by Mrs. Offen. With her are Diane, six; Glen, 10, and Vern, 13. The family fled their home barefooted.

Despite frantic efforts of neighbors and the Markham and Unionville fire brigades the store and home burned completely to the ground. The loss was estimated at $12,000, and the cause was believed to be a defective motor. Mr. Offen was burned.

Expect Early Nitro Blast Would Blow Them 40 Miles

CALGARY (CP) — People across the road from West Flank No. 2, the oil well where 5,000 quarts of nitroglycerine is to be set off Dec. 15, admit that a disaster probably would move them to High River, 40 miles away, but nobody seems very worried about it.

They say that the nitro will be in the hands of experts and a premature explosion is most unlikely. If the explosion takes place 6,900 feet underground, as scheduled, the only surface indication is expected to be a shock and roll of the ground.

The Union Drilling Company has erected an 86-foot wooden derrick and is now installing cable tool equipment to condition the hole prior to treatment with nitro and to clean out the hole after the explosion takes place. These workmen will have nothing to do with the operation itself.

Haskell Greene, owner of the Hercules Oil Well Shooting Corp., Los Angeles, is on the spot supervising preliminary arrangements.

Mr. Greene's company has long been engaged in shooting wells in Texas and Oklahoma, but never before has so large a charge been used, and never before has it been pumped into a formation to shatter it. Usually the explosion takes place only around the bottom of the hole.

At present the nitro is stored in a magazine about a mile and a quarter from the well in a guile called "The Gap." Armed guards watch the nitro closely, but if anything happens to it no report is expected from the guards, it is said in Longview, three-quarters of a mile south of the well.

"We were in more danger from the explosion of three Anglo-Canadian oil tanks last week than we are from this," said Frank Gallup, keeper of the general store. The gas flare of the Anglo well, fanned by the wind, set off the explosion that shook most of the houses in Longview. Nobody was hurt.

Victoria Veterans Join Cry 'Bring Our Brides Home'

Demand for a definite government policy in bringing home wives of Canadian servicemen who married in the United Kingdom is made in telegrams sent today to Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, M.P., and R. W. Mayhew, M.P., by the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion.

The telegram said members of the branch backed pressure brought to bear on government and military authorities by the "Bring Our Wives Home Association" in Vancouver.

Inquiries by members of the branch concern the return of their wives were becoming numerous and feelings of the veterans were becoming definitely hostile to the delay, the telegram added.

An increasing number of veterans in Victoria also have applied to the Department of Veterans' Affairs for "quicker action" in the shipping of their brides to Canada. Some of them are reported to have been "impatient."

It has been pointed out to these veterans that some wives in Victoria have been separated from their soldier husbands for four years or more, and that these cases must have consideration too in the matter of shipping from England.

In Vancouver, R. B. McEwen, former Seafarths private and chairman of the recently-formed "Bring Our Wives Home Association" says: "We don't want to take shipping space from our buddies over there, but there's lots of space going to waste on the ships. Our wives in England on 'port watching duty' tell us that."

G-Men Arrest 27 Trying to Smash Vicious Racket

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Squads of United States federal agents completed today a series of 27 arrests in an effort to smash what Assistant United States Attorney R. Norman Kirchgraber described as a "white-slave ring which had lured Canadian girls into houses of ill-fame in this city."

Describing the story behind the wholesale arrests as "fantastic and practically unbelievable in modern times," Kirchgraber asserted that federal agents would "hit again and again until every vestige of illegality in swept from Niagara Falls."

He reported that all the arrests resulted from four raids on five or six houses in one district of the city.

Today's arrests brought the total in custody to 27—15 as defendants and 12 as material witnesses.

Kirchgraber said almost all the girls in custody, either defendants or material witnesses, were Canadian citizens who were lured across the border by being told "they could make money over here."

Kirchgraber said that when the girls crossed the border "most of them gave false information to immigration inspectors, thus making themselves liable to criminal prosecution and giving the heads of the ring a lever to force them into houses of ill-fame." He explained that most were prostitutes and as such could not be admitted legally.

"Thus," he continued, "when any of the girls resisted, they could be told that they would be turned over to federal officials and sent to prison for a year at least."

Beaten, Starved

Asserting that affidavits in his possession indicated girls were "beaten, starved and forced to submit," Kirchgraber said:

"When the victim arrived in Niagara Falls after crossing from Canada, she was taken to a resort and plied with drinks and if she didn't drink she was forced in one way or another to enter a room in a falls drive. In some cases the girls' clothing was forcibly removed."

"As federal officers we are not concerned primarily with the prostitution phase of this drive to rid the Niagara frontier of this horrible ring of white slavers. That is a job for the Niagara Falls police and state authorities."

"But we are concerned with illegal entrance into the U.S., the white-slave traffic across the border and the illegal sale of alcoholic beverages."

Kirchgraber said he believed the racket had been smashed, with the exception of perhaps one or two persons, and that he expected to begin presenting the case to a federal grand jury next week.

Span Swings Car, 30 Passengers Out Over Water

VANCOUVER (CP) — Thirty startled passengers on a south-bound No. 6 streetcar found themselves swinging towards False Creek today when the Granville Street bridge span was opened with the car on it.

They were trapped on the span for nearly 40 minutes.

A light delivery truck with its driver was also caught there. The bridge tender was unaware that either was on the span when he swung it open to allow passage of two derricks into False Creek.

Off-centre position of the streetcar prevented the span being properly closed and lines of streetcars both north and southbound were held up.

Ald. Charles E. Thompson said he would ask for "a complete investigation" of the incident. "There could have been a very bad accident," the councillor observed.

Big Crowd Enjoys First 'Jam Session' At Royal Victoria

Jazz, as the modern greats of saxophone, trumpet and piano have developed it from its ragtime beginnings in New Orleans, came to Victoria Friday evening at the Royal Victoria Theatre in the playing of Coleman Hawkins and his entourage.

Although this first "Jam session" in the Royal Victoria attracted a large crowd of high school and college students there were also a number of older persons in the audience. Before Hawkins concluded his first set they had joined the swing fans in tapping their feet and nodding their heads to the improvisations of such numbers as "Stompin' at the Savoy" and "Sweet Georgia Brown."

Other numbers in the initial set were "I Surrender," which Roy Eldridge introduced with the full, clear notes of his trumpet, and "Lady Be Good," wherein piano, trumpet and saxophone improvised on the Gershwin theme. Lucky Thompson's tenor saxophone, started the playing of "Sweet Georgia Brown" and as he paused "The Honorable Monk" took over at the piano to give some of the best "boogie-woogie" heard so far.

Denzil Best and Al McKibbin playing drums and bass viol respectively were especially outstanding in "After You've Gone." Cheers and whistles greeted the number which followed as Hawkins gave his famous rendition of "Body and Soul" on his tenor saxophone.

The audience called for repeated encores as Meade Lux Lewis played his "boogie-woogie" arrangements described as the most important jazz style yet to be adapted to the piano. With eyes closed and lips moving as he counted the time the big negro played his own composition "Honky Tonk Train" as well as "Tell Your Story," "Slow Blues" and "Cow Cow Blues." Helen Humes, former singer with Count Basie, opened her numbers with the "St. Louis Blues," continuing with "If I Could Be With You" and "Honey Suckle Rose." Just as the instrumentalists improvised in everything they played, Miss Humes sang different words with her songs. "Cries of 'dusky woman' and 'hallelujah' came from the audience as she appeared and cheered and whistles as she returned for an encore.

Most popular of the instrumentalists was Roy Eldridge with his clever phrasing on the trumpet. Throughout the performance each player seemed oblivious of the others as they blended renditions with improvisations, in which melody took second place to rhythm.

FREDERICTON

The Loyalist Capital

Centre of a rich agricultural district, capital of New Brunswick, a province rich in tourist delights, Fredericton is a city of noble heritage, fruit of the faith and loyalty of those who gave up everything to remain true to their British principles—the United Empire Loyalists.

Today, those same principles of loyalty and brotherhood bind Fredericton and her province to Dominion and Commonwealth with ties of comradeship and understanding. Today the descendants of those first settlers look back with pride upon the deeds of their ancestors, look ahead to an even greater future, as Fredericton goes "Forward with Canada."

Meeting of Big 3 Ministers to Face Atom Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Big Three world powers will make their first joint approach to the ominous subject of atomic energy control at a meeting of British, United States and Russian foreign secretaries in Moscow Dec. 15.

An official announcement by the State Department here said "an exchange of views on the subject of the control of atomic energy" definitely would be held. The secretaries also will take up other matters of "current concern" to their governments.

State Secretary Byrnes will leave early next week to meet Foreign Minister Bevin and Foreign Commissar Molotov on the agreed date.

Problems which they may discuss include civil strife in Iran, Allied controls for Japan, the uni-

BERLIN (AP)—The provincial administration of Russian-occupied Saxony issued a decree today prohibiting the manufacture and sale of all toys of a military character and ordering Germans to surrender all such toys to the police.

Students Take Over Duties Of Civic and Business Heads

What don't the prisoners ever get chairs in their padded cells? asked Dorene Dabiel in her capacity as "police commissioner" when members of the Youth Action Committee today took over civic and business officials' duties and jobs in Victoria today.

Dorene was only joking, though, as she and her fellow "commissioners" Pat Hunter, inspected the cells at the City Police Station, escorted by Commissioner B. J. Gadsden.

The "taking over" ceremony was held at 10 when Peter Salmon, popular local Canadian champion swimmer, was greeted at the City Hall by Mayor Percy George who turned over his seat to the "teenager" who, along with "aldermen" and other civic and business leaders, were elected to their positions by fellow students at Victoria High School earlier in the week.

"I guess we're all 'has-beens,'" said Ald. Gadsden as the new "mayor and aldermen" took their places in the City Council Chamber and were officially welcomed to the "seat of the civic government" by Mayor George.

"You are most welcome," the mayor told them, "and I am sure you will be able to learn a great deal from your experiences today. Ask lots of questions and pay attention to the instructions given you by the aldermen who will show you the inside workings of their offices."

YOUTHFUL ALDERMEN
The new "aldermen" were: Dorothy Willis for Ald. Ed. Williams, Pat Hunter for Ald. B. J. Gadsden, Kathleen Drysdale for Ald. W. H. Davies, Dorene Dabiel for Ald. Duncan McTavish, Dick Chester for Ald. F. A. Willis, Don Smyth for Ald. T. W. Hawkins, Pete Langdon for Ald. Harold Duggan, Charles McLeod for Ald. J. D. Hunter and Frank Jarvis for Ald. F. G. Mulliner.

This afternoon the "mayor" and "aldermen" held a meeting

'Hottest Secret' Of War Became Common Gossip

WASHINGTON (AP)—The hottest secret of the war—that the U.S. had cracked the Japanese code—was cocktail bar gossip in Washington and Tokyo never got wise.

Army officers spoke "carelessly" of it. One man employed as a code cracker tried to sell it. Fliers in the Pacific theatre deduced it.

Sitting on top of the powder keg was Gen. George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff, getting greyer by the minute.

Gen. Marshall told Pearl Harbor investigators in Congress how one thing after another turned up to give him the military creeps.

It came out Friday when he was explaining how he had heard Governor Thomas E. Dewey knew the secret and feared it might become public during the presidential campaign. Dewey kept silent at Marshall's urgent plea.

The general said he didn't know how the information got to Dewey. But—

Reports came to Marshall that army officers were "talking carelessly" in hotels and clubs about it.

The original code-cracking staff of several hundred had grown to 16,000—a lot of chances for leaks. Talk drifted back from the Pacific after army fliers had shot down Admiral Yamamoto (who once said he would dictate peace in the White House). They had to be told where to go and when, and could deduce that the Japanese communications were tapped.

This "whispering" about how Yamamoto was caught was the most "dangerous" of all, Gen. Marshall indicated. He got so concerned he asked F.B.I. Director J. Edgar Hoover to trail some army officers "so we could make an example of them."

Hoover was "hesitant," Marshall said, contending it would make a "Gestapo" out of his force. So it wasn't done.

Marshall related how one of a group of 26 code crackers working at an army station at Fort Washington, Va., was caught trying to "sell" the secret in Boston. The general didn't say what happened to that individual.

Invisible Spaniel Intelligent Dog

He may have been a little drunk, or he may have been more unfortunate, but he seemed to resent the skepticism of an embarrassed woman at Fort and Douglas Street.

"Lie down," he said, lowering an empty dog collar to the ground, by its leash. "Now get up."

And he pulled the dog collar a foot off the ground.

"See?" he asked the nervously smiling woman. "These spaniels are fine dogs."

Municipalities Want Goldenberg As Adviser On Amalgamation

Strong support for the suggestion that H. Carl Goldenberg be appointed as the commissioner to investigate the feasibility of amalgamation of the four municipalities of Greater Victoria has come from representatives of Victoria, Esquimalt and Saanich on the special intermunicipal committee which is to approach the provincial government on the matter.

Oak Bay representatives refuse to commit themselves one way or the other, but say they are not opposing the suggested appointment of Mr. Goldenberg.

Mr. Goldenberg of Montreal, an outstanding authority on municipal affairs in the Dominion, has just been appointed by the provincial government sole member of a Royal Commission which will begin hearings in February on provincial-municipal finance in B.C.

Ald. B. J. Gadsden, chairman of the intermunicipal committee, said he would call a meeting of the representatives of the four municipalities within the next week to discuss the suggestion that Mr. Goldenberg be requested as the commissioner when the delegation makes its appeal to the provincial government for the appointment of the commission. Ald. Gadsden said he thought that Mr. Goldenberg would make an ideal commissioner.

'Completely Impartial'

Mayor Percy George and Ald. Edward Williams also strongly supported the move to get such an outstanding municipal authority for the investigating job. "I heartily endorse the idea," Mayor George declared, while Ald. Williams concurred that Mr. Goldenberg would be the "best man available for the job, being completely impartial."

Councillor Robert Noble, Saanich representative, declared that "Mr. Goldenberg would be an excellent man for the job, having such complete knowledge of financial affairs." He also stressed that he favored the appointment because he felt certain that Mr. Goldenberg would be impartial.

Councillor J. P. A. Christensen, Esquimalt representative, said, "I would certainly endorse his appointment. In view of his experience and his impartiality, I am sure he would be the best man, and I am heartily in favor of it."

Brig. J. Sutherland Brown, who is contesting the reeveship of Oak Bay, said he felt that with the endorsement which the provincial government has given Mr. Goldenberg by appointing him to his present post, there could be no better man to investigate the amalgamation question. Councillor Walter Walker, who is also contesting the reeveship and who at present represents Oak Bay on the intermunicipal council, would not commit himself either to supporting the recommendation that Mr. Goldenberg be the commissioner, or opposing it.

Reeve L. W. Woodhouse of Oak Bay said he felt the matter of the personnel of the commission should be left entirely to the Premier.

Ald. Gadsden said that the committee would endeavor to make arrangements to have the delegation meet all or part of the cabinet prior to Premier Hart's leaving for his holidays, and that this would be discussed at next week's meeting also.

Only 4 Shipyarders Take Advantage of Free Tickets Home

Four shipyard workers have accepted free transportation from the National Employment Service at Victoria to centres in Saskatchewan and New Brunswick where they have good prospects of work, C. A. Mudge, manager of the Victoria office, said today.

"Three had their homes in Saskatchewan and the fourth had a good chance of returning to his former job in New Brunswick, according to Mr. Mudge.

"If the non-residents who came to Victoria to work in the shipyards returned to their former homes it would greatly ease the employment situation here," he said. "About 75 per cent of those working in the shipyards when the yards were at peak employment were non-residents."

A number of inquiries have been received at the Employment Office from men interested in returning to their former homes, but many have certain domestic arrangements to make before they can leave.

5-Way Contest Seen For Saanich Reeve

Reeve E. C. Warren announced today his intention of seeking reelection in Saanich, bringing to five the number of prospective candidates for reeveship of the municipality.

"It has been put forcibly to me that my 13 years of continuous service and experience on the municipal council are urgently needed at this time to meet critical situations that are at this time before us and many serious problems that we can all see ahead of us during the coming years," the reeve said today.

The other four prospective candidates for reeveship in Saanich are George Rudd, A. G. Lambbrick, John Watson and Albert Hull. No nominations for reeve had been filed at the municipal hall at 10.30 a.m. today.

THE MOSCOW MEETING

ONE OF THE IMPORTANT DECISIONS taken at Yalta by Mr. Churchill, Mr. Roosevelt and Marshal Stalin last February, was that the Foreign Ministers of their respective countries should meet every three months. Under the imposing title of Council of Foreign Ministers, the first of this particular series of deliberations between Mr. Bevin, Mr. Byrnes and Mr. Molotov—plus their opposite numbers from France and China—took place in London last September. That initial meeting was far from an outstanding success; it had not proceeded far before signs of inadequate preparation began to manifest themselves. But only the confirmed skeptics wrote it off as a failure. Impartial observers of the proceedings, apart from the views of the participants, unhesitatingly pronounced that the lessons learned from the various clashes of opinion which developed there could be turned to useful account on the next occasion. Obviously the result was discouraging because it lent still more emphasis to the troubled state of the world. At the same time, neither the official pronouncement to which the Foreign Ministers attached their signatures as they went their several ways, nor subsequent developments in relations between the "Big Three," have been followed by anything in the interval suggestive of a serious tension between the principal Allies.

What is especially important to observe as the British, United States and Russian Foreign Ministers prepare for their meeting on Dec. 15, however, is that the scene of the second in the series of these deliberations is to be the capital of the Soviet Union. And this is important, because Mr. Molotov, who appears to place a good deal more stock in procedural observances than in the essential practicalities of free and easy debate and decision, will be in close touch with his chief and his colleagues. In other words, such divisions of view as may reveal themselves as this conference progresses should be susceptible of prompt dissolution, an advantage denied the initial London gathering. Furthermore, the fact that the Moscow deliberations are to be held on the eve of the first meeting of the General Assembly of the United Nations is auspicious, for it ought to be able to remove such fears as are being entertained in some quarters for the success of that initial gathering.

YEAR-ROUND CITIZENS

IN VARIOUS PUBLIC AND PRIVATE INSTITUTIONS throughout the city, young Victorians today are "sitting in" with executives to acquire greater familiarity with the processes of business and public life in a democratic community. The objective is highly commendable. And through the experience, those who are participating may gain a higher recognition of the responsibilities entailed in the enjoyment of the privileges of full citizenship.

We do not infer that young people should try to pack the burdens of the entire world on their shoulders at an age when life is still very much a carefree existence. But we suggest the experience today may emphasize for them the objective of the present philosophy of education—as we understand it—to impress the student with the individual obligation to conduct himself in a manner which is beneficial to his fellows and does not intrude on the rights of others.

That aim gains significance in the unsettled times of postwar living as juvenile delinquency comes into sharper focus. And probably no force could help more to eradicate the unsocial trend than well-matched young opinion, resolutely set against it. Today young citizenship is being given spectacular recognition. But the assumption by youth of responsibilities should not be limited to one day. They are not young citizens for Dec. 8, 1945, only. They hold that status all year round. If they can use their influence to raise the social consciousness of straying companions in a way to check unsavory trends, they will be displaying citizenship of which their community will be proud.

FOR 'TINY TIMS'

AS THE SEASON APPROACHES WHEN Dickens' Christmas Carol to spread his benediction once more over humanity, Victorians will probably bring to mind his counterparts at the Queen Alexandra Solarium, where twisted little bodies house spirits of brightness and hope. And in their wholesome appreciation of the gallantry of the little ones at Mill Bay, citizens will be moved to assist their struggle for better health through some material channel.

For those so moved, the Solarium Junior League offers a double inducement. On Friday and Saturday of next week it will sponsor the pantomime "Jack and the Beanstalk," the proceeds from which will go to the institution that is carrying on such inspiring work on the other side of the Malahat. And here is another instance in which the Junior League is offering patrons their money's worth in entertainment as a means of raising $2,000.

THEIR JOB WELL DONE

PRaise FOR THE EFFICIENCY OF THE National War Finance Committee came gracefully from the lips of parliamentary leaders in Ottawa this week as Finance Minister Ilsley announced dissolution of that body. But the compliments were necessarily secondary to the earlier expression of appreciation for and confidence in the committee shown by the whole-hearted support accorded the nine Victory Loans. Nevertheless, it must have been gratifying to the man who directed Canada's wartime financing to hear commendation from all sides. And surely few men in government in any country could point to greater accomplishment than could Mr. Ilsley in the loan record.

Decision still is to be made on one point of financing which came under the wing of the National War Finance Committee. It concerns the possible continuation of war savings stamp sales through the schools. Maintenance of that practice was suggested as a means of teaching thrift to the children. On the face of it, the plan sounds excellent. There are, however, one or two points to be investigated. One involves the source of the money which the students put into the stamps. If they were personal savings, there could be no objection to the plan. But if they merely represented further inroads into parents' pockets, with the child simply carrying the funds to school, there would be less to commend the measure.

There is no intention here to criticize many of the splendid causes for which financial support has been sought through school children. But the issue opens up a big question. Is it fair to appeal to the young ones for help when such action may cause them embarrassment? Is the teaching of thrift an undertaking for the school, or is it a matter which can be handled adequately only in the home?

ORGANIZED TEMPERAMENT

THE RECENT TROUBLE AT NEW York's Metropolitan Opera provides a rough idea of what can happen when labor relations get mixed up with artistic temperament. It seems that the opera's chorus got into a dispute with its own union, the American Guild of Musical Artists, about some contract clauses the chorus members would not sign. When the contracts failed to come back, AGMA, by way of punishment, suspended one of the chorus officers who is also a member of AGMA's own board of governors. The chorus then served notice on the Metropolitan management that there would be no more rehearsals until the suspended member was reinstated. It gave the management a short time in which to act, after which, it said, "we shall conclude that the management proposes to lock out the chorus."

The opera management was not a party to the dispute. It had no right to reinstate the suspended chorus member. If it had tried it would have had to go over the union's head and run the risk of losing not only its chorus but its leading singers, most of whom belong to AGMA for the same reason that most of the famous instrumental soloists belong to Mr. Petrillo's American Federation of Musicians—because they have to.

So the opera management did not reinstate the chorus member, and the chorists who walked out now consider that the management locked them out. The whole thing makes about as much sense as most of the plots of the operas in the Metropolitan repertory. So maybe it is all perfectly clear to the people at the Met.

NEW DESCRIPTION

AN EDITORIAL IN THE UNITED MINE Workers' Journal states: "Three times in 1943 it became necessary for the U.M.W.A. to save the public from a coal famine that would have resulted from the obstinacy of the coal operators' determination to fight 'portal to portal' and the government's hesitancy to take the necessary action that would continue the mines in operation. The nation was then at war and every pound of coal that could be mined was needed. The action of the mine workers in voluntarily restoring the mines to operation by returning to work constituted a patriotic service that the nation probably will never fully appreciate."

No doubt one reason for our neighbor's lack of appreciation is that most of its citizens are still so old-fashioned as to consider the rescue from coal famine and the miners' "patriotic service" as just another of John L. Lewis' strikes.

'RIVER BOSS'

IN AN AGE OF SIMPLER PLEASURES, there was high adventure in the floating masses of logs which winter sou'-easters drove against the shoreline of Victoria bays at the season of high tides. There was a challenge in them to boys who stirred to the exploits of Ralph Connor's Glangarry lumberjacks. During that period when water washed against the banks and the drift formed a broad floating ribbon bordering them, the bay became a river for the log drive. There youngsters who knew only in story the deft abilities of men to run the timbers, learned quick proficiency in the art, skimming the lighter "sticks" and acquiring easy balance on the more stable.

That was a time when dusty boxes in basements were ransacked for hobnails and—in the case of lucky boys—fog calls to be driven into boots that would bite firm footing on the floating wood. It was a time when youngsters fought to be "boss of the river." And though each day's exploits ended with an inevitable ducking, it was a time of sturdy enjoyment.

There was a small element of danger in it, small because the "river boss" exacted strict discipline from those who could not swim. But the minor risk added to the intoxication of the game made it golden coin in the mint of boyhood.

Picked at Random

PROBLEMS of prairie citizens tramping the aisles of stores for something to put in the stocking a couple of weeks hence draw this comment from the Edmonton Journal:

As Christmas shoppers visit the stores these days looking for something half-way decent to give the other members of the family, they are discovering a lot of shortages. Luxury items are there, and quite a few gewgaws, but good stuff and the things men, women and children wear are far from plentiful. Some things, such as children's underwear, are simply not to be had—unless one is very lucky or has a bosom friend behind the counter.

An unpleasant report, firmly believed by many, is that the fault is not the retailers' but lies with the manufacturers and distributors. Or perhaps it could be traced still further back to the government, to the Minister of Finance and his announcement, weeks before it went into effect, that excess profits taxes would drop by 40 per cent at the first of the year.

If manufacturers are not holding back deliveries until Jan. 1 in order to reap the full benefit in the reduction of the tax, they had better speak up quickly and loudly.

MONTREAL'S PRIDE runs high over the exploits of one of Canada's noted regiments as the Daily Star welcomes the troops with:

It is a big day for the "Malsies." After more than five years' overseas service they have been dismissed after a gala welcome from thousands of next-of-kin; friends and regimental veterans repatriated during the course of the war.

The 1st Battalion, Le Regiment de Maisonneuve, has established an impressive record. Never once in the western campaign did they yield a foot of ground. With the "Malsies" it was always advance—Fleury-sur-Orne, Etavaux, Rouen, Antwerp and Calcar among the bloodiest mileposts on their march toward victory from Normandy to Germany. The "Malsies" were, in fact, according to regimental records, the last Canadian fighting men to get the order to cease fire.

Now all that is behind. There's a job well done, a job on which all who aided may look back with pride, a job accomplished fully in keeping with the confident motto of the regimental coat of arms: "Bon Coeur et Bon Bras."

IN OTTAWA, readers of the Evening Citizen are chuckling over T.D.F.'s perennial humor, of which this is characteristic:

A stylist says pyjamas have certain advantages over a night shirt. Personally, however, we would prefer to wear them under our nightshirt, as we imagine that any attempt to stuff the long tail of a nightshirt down into pyjama pants would create a bustle effect. If you have ever tried to sleep in a bustle you will understand our objection to this.

DOWN IN THE Maritimes, the Halifax Herald draws attention to a pithy point regarding labor-management discussions:

Industry is a common enterprise, on the part of employers and employees. The survival of both depends upon their intelligent co-operation.

But there is also a third factor to be considered—the consumer. It has well been stated that—

"Over and above the primary requisites of successful collective bargaining—namely, the recognition that managements and unions are mutually indispensable and functionally equal—must come the further recognition that to serve themselves best they must serve the common prosperity most."

In the midst of all the present wrangling between managements and unions, that fact should not be overlooked. The common prosperity of the entire community is involved in every discussion and decision concerning and governing industry.

AND IN THE federal capital the sober Ottawa Journal has a thing or two to say about drinks:

The trustees of the Memorial Hospital at St. Thomas have passed a resolution calling upon the Ontario government to provide hospital accommodation for alcoholics apart from general hospitals, "the cost to be paid out of the profits from the sale of liquor by the Ontario government." The resolution says:

"The increase in drunkenness is appalling, causing a great deal of danger to orderlies and nurses, because of the violence of drunk patients, and also mental unrest to the rest of the patients in the hospital."

The Brockville Recorder and Times approves the suggestion, says:

"The hospital in St. Thomas is not the only one which is having trouble with drunken patients nor is it the only one which thinks the time has definitely arrived to do something about this problem."

"The drunk is always an infernal nuisance wherever he may be and it is distinctly unfair to the staffs of general hospitals and their other patients that they should be asked to shelter and treat them."

"It is not unreasonable to suggest that the Government should set up special hospitals for their treatment."

Presumably these comments do not apply to the casual drunks for whom the proper place is a police cell until they recover, but to those addicts who at almost regular intervals drink themselves into what is known as delirium tremens. We have had those pests with us always and presumably always will.

The first sure sign of approaching age is the itch to prescribe for everybody's ailments.

A classic is any work so respected and so familiar that thieves can't win applause by pretending they did it.

Letters To The Editor

THE MAN BEHIND MUNICH
I am quite disturbed to see in the paper that Dr. Frank Buchman and his Moral Re-orientation Followers are coming to Victoria—presumably at the City Council's invitation—to put on one of their propaganda plays with an "anti-war" bias.

One cannot help recalling the facts revealed in the Victoria Times of June 12, 1939, in the article: "The Man Behind Munich." One also recalls the fact quoted in the American press that this group has been accused of un-American activities and has been kept very strictly under the eye of the F.B.I. Dr. Buchman, you remember, once said: "Thank God for Hitler."

Among the Moral Re-orientation group are a large number of "Conchie's."

We know how the Oxford group undermined the morale of our young men at the time of the Oxford Union (O.U.D.S.) in the resolution of "Refusal to Fight for King and Country." Most, if not all, of those youths saw in time where that "negation of sonship" was leading them—and regained their honor in service.

We of the Anglo-Saxon nations are not warmongers. We are in truth guardians of peace. And yet after a terrific war in which our youth has paid so big a price for peace and right dealing—and are now wanting to enter into their just dues and honors—alone comes Buchman again. Why does their group not go and live in the centres of warmongering—Germany (the land of his birth or ancestry) or Japan, and try their anti-war propaganda there?

The work of actual physical fighting and cruel hardship has been done by our fighting men; and peace has been won by them and not by the Buchmanites.

May I congratulate you on your editorial titled "Advertise in the Church," in the Times of December 5. Another policyholder reports...

"I AM a policyholder in The Mutual Life of Canada, an average man with the average man's problems. I know what people mean when they talk of stretching the dollars to meet all the needs. That is the reason why I decided to insure in the first place. Do You Feel Nervous, And All on Edge?

People suffering from loss of appetite, and run-down condition with symptoms of nerve strain often need a nerve and general tonic. Glycero-lecithin with Vitamin B (1) supplies tonic ingredients. It is especially beneficial for convalescents. By increasing the supply of Vitamin B (1) in the system, appetite is improved and the system thereby built up to normal, if the loss of appetite was due to deficiency of Vitamin B (1). Saanich Teacher Wed in England

The ancient town of Brixton in the south of England was the scene of a pretty wedding when Miss Vera Townsend married Sgt. Jack Chatfield of Victoria. Sgt. Chatfield has been overseas with the Canadian army for the last three years.

LOVE HAS NO RULES

A youth with serious intentions asks me for some information about how to conduct a courtship, and what is the best approach to asking a girl to marry him.

Well, son, there is no handy manual for love-making that teaches just how to do it and guarantees that if you follow these rules you cannot fail, nor is there any set formula for popping the question that is foolproof. Every man has to be his own guide when he starts out to find the way to a maiden's heart, and even after he has discovered it he never knows how he did it.

But while there is no set pattern for conducting a courtship, there are a few helpful hints that can be given to the lovelorn lad who is starting out in pursuit of THE GIRL. The first is to consider the girl's personality and adapt his wooing to it. If she is of the shy, gentle, quiet type, who hasn't had many dates, give her a whirlwind courtship. Sweep her off of her feet. Be masterful. Rush her to the parson before she can think up any good reason for not marrying you.

On the other hand, if she is one of the bold, aggressive cuties, who is somewhat of a wolverine herself, play indifferent. Show her that you are attracted to her, but not knocked out by her charms, and that you can take her, or leave her. While she is trying to find out why you haven't fallen for her, it is dollars to doughnuts she will fall for you.

Of course gifts help along a courtship, as they are a sort of guarantee to a girl that a man means business and is not taking up her time for nothing, but use discretion in your offerings. Be neither a spendthrift nor a tightwad. Remember her tastes, and don't send her bunches of long-stemmed roses that nobody but she ever sees, when she is dying for an orchid to pin on her suit and flaunt before her friends.

HOW TO JUDGE

Also, note the girl's attitude towards your gifts as it will tip you off as to whether she is going to say YES or NO to you when you ask her to be yours.

If she is all for simple little inexpensive presents, she is planning to share your salary; but if she hints for a wrist watch, she is just out for loot.

If you are really in love, be a stayer. Don't be scared off by other men. Don't take NO for a decisive turnaround. Changing her mind is a woman's prerogative, and many a girl doesn't know whether she loves a man or not until he tells her she does. It is a matter of record that the lad who camps on a girl's doorstep and is always Johnny-on-the-spot nearly always gets her.

Don't worry about how to pop the question. If the girl wants you, any old words will serve. If she doesn't, no eloquence will avail. If a girl loves you, she may weep because you bungled the great moment of her life, but she will say, "Yes, John," as she bursts into tears on your breast.

So go to it, son, and may God have mercy on your soul.

VICTORIA'S Chief Thunderbird has hit the wrestling headlines in Salt Lake City again, according to information received today in a letter from Jim Downing who promoted shows here last summer. The other evening the big Saanich Indian engaged in a bout with Chief Little Wolf, famed Navajo grappler, and after a match that produced near mayhem Thunderbird took the deciding fall in three. According to Downing, Thunderbird was the favorite with the fans and his victory a popular one. Little Wolf just about brought on a riot when he "accidentally" clipped an army lieutenant in a ringside seat and rendered him hors de combat.

POM CARNEY, the big husky of the Crimson Tide backfield, has been forced to retire from the English rugby battlefield. This has been ordered by army doctors after they had given Carney a thorough "going-over" in the army medical during his discharge proceedings recently in Vancouver. Carney has knee and back trouble that will not allow him to go through strenuous action on the rugby field. Local fans will be sorry to see the 200-pounder out of uniform, for in spite of his size, Carney always displayed plenty of speed and looked something like an express train in high speed when charging over the turf with the ball.

THE OTHER DAY in Ottawa Billy Foran took his final call and it served to remind that he was the champion of the principle that a professional in one sport could be an amateur in other athletic activities. He espoused the cause of the "free amateur." In all his activities Foran did not care whether a competitor was amateur or pro as long as he came clean on his declaration of standing. He was vehement in his denunciation of hypocrisy and perjury in sport.

WORD AMATEUR may soon vanish as a term used to describe an athlete. News item out of Toronto the other day told of how the Winnipeg Blue Bombers plan to cut up a $5,000 million as a result of their recent Canadian football final against Toronto Argonauts. The same situation holds true in many lines of sport these days. The participants are not regarded as paid professionals but they certainly are not amateurs in the strict sense of the code laid down by the ever-declining Amateur Athletic Union. It just means that the lads and lassies who put the people in the stands and play the leading role in drawing the big gates are cutting in on the profits. Seems to me the majority of people these days are of the opinion an athlete does not suffer because he is willing to accept cash for his efforts. They feel it at least makes him honest and does away with a lot of shams and shams.

Minor Hockeyists Travel to Nanaimo

Victoria minor hockey players will travel to Nanaimo tomorrow for another training session at the up-island arena, Ivan Temple, head coach of the Victoria Minor Hockey Association, announced last night.

The following players, all of whom are asked to meet at the Blue Line office, Yates Street, at 10.30, will make the trip: Juvenile—McCarthy, Fawcett, Bennett, Davis, Holding, Stephenson, Oberg, Stone, Shepherd, Bertrand, Elphick, Griffin, Woolford, McConachie, Wong, Aitken, Hagart.

Midget—Sufferin, Green, Dickinson, Duncan, Harkin, McConachie, Wittingham, Noel, Derry, McAvoy, Brookbank, Kowalyk, Curran.

SOCCER PRACTICE

Victoria West division three juvenile football team will hold a practice at the Victoria High School grounds Sunday at 2.

City Button Golf Match Tomorrow

Vic Painter and Frank Clarkson will defend the city golf button at the Uplands Club tomorrow against Walter and Bill Newcombe, Oak Bay challengers.

The foursome will tee off at 1.15.

Register 10-0 Win

VANCOUVER (CP) — Sharpshooters Harry Groves led Edmonton Canadians to an overwhelming 10 to 0 victory over Vancouver All-Stars of the Pacific Coast Junior Hockey League in an exhibition game here Friday night.

Groves netted four of his teams goals and scored the only marker of the first period. The win was Edmonton's third straight without a defeat in exhibition games at the Pacific coast. Earlier this week they trounced Nanaimo Clippers 4 to 1 and 6 to 1.

Minor Baseball Moguls Would End Player Bonuses

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — The hot test—but "unrulingest"—minor league meeting in years wound up Friday with approval of a law barring all player bonuses in baseball and a green light for the Pacific coast loop to move up into the big leagues, if it can get the big leagues "okay."

Both yesterday's actions must be approved by the major leagues at their meeting in Chicago next week. But, just as it was here, the hotfoot in next week's sessions will be in the fight that now amounts virtually to open warfare between baseball men generally and the game's high commissioner, A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

Not since the attempt to oust the minor league czar, Judge W. G. Bramham, failed three conventions ago because the late Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis merely walked into the meeting room, has any annual meeting aired a battle-inside baseball such as the legislative punches the minors threw at Chandler here this week.

With the decision to curb his powers sharply coming up for concurrence at the major league convocation, along with a vote on the new major-minor agreement which is reported to slice even more authority from him, there is no doubt the fight is a long way from the last round.

Coming up, too, next week will probably be at least a few more player deals to accompany the lone major league ivory transaction put across at the meetings here—the sale of pitcher Johnny Humphries by the Chicago White Sox to the Phillies.

Dominoes Play Tonight

Oppose Bremerton

Dominoes get back into international basketball competition tonight when they engage Bremerton Rockets of the Northwest League at the High-School gym, starting at 8.45. A preliminary tilt will open the card at 7.30.

Victoria Club will take the floor tonight minus the services of Porky Andrews who will stay on the sidelines to rest an injured shoulder. However, it is hoped that Doug Feden who has been laid up for several weeks with an injured hip will get back into action.

With Sonny Walker and Leon Hall leading the way with a scoring credit of 11 points apiece, Canadian Legion hoopers maintained their undefeated record Friday night in Brentwood Hall with a 28 to 21 victory over H.M.C.S. Uganda to improve their top point-standing in the senior B men's league.

The card's second game wound up with the closest score of the three B matches, Chinese Students coming out with a 36 to 29 win over Northwestern Creamery. The other tilt saw Black and White improve their second berth position by tacking up a landslide 71 to 33 win over Sprinkling Tailors.

The veterans-Uganda game showed the bluejackets in front on the scoreboard at the half by 23 to 12.

Table Tennis Finals Tonight

Ruth Payne Advances

Action aplenty is promised to-night when new champions of the Victoria Table Tennis Association are crowned at the Crystal Garden. Play will open at 7. Semifinals of the women's singles Friday night saw defending champion Ruth Payne advance to the final by registering a four-game triumph over her sister, Joy, 25-23, 21-19, 14-21, 21-12.

In the other bracket, Barbara MacKay, B.C. titlist, eliminated Thelma Brown in straight games, 21-19, 21-7, 21-18. In the men's singles semifinals will be run off tonight, with Wilmet Browne-Cave, seeded number one, battling Stan Ngai, former junior titleholder.

Desperate Leafs In Tilt With Canadiens

Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs, bitter rivals in the 1944-45 Stanley Cup playoffs, meet at Toronto tonight in a National Hockey League contest which the Leafs management has earmarked as the start of a new drive to gain a contending position.

While Canadiens hold a two-point lead on the rest of the field after roughly six weeks of play, Leafs are nine points behind in fifth place. Billed as an early-season favorite for the Stanley Cup round, Leafs have won only four games in 15 starts.

Their surprising performance has produced an almost panicky reaction among the Leafs executive, with a note of desperation emerging in a Thursday press conference held by general manager Conny Smythe.

Smythe, after noting Leafs problems, and asserting that if the club can't make the playoffs this year it will build for the following season, promised Leafs would open against Canadiens a new campaign in which the emphasis would be entirely on attack.

Toronto will shoot shuffled forward lines against Canadiens, with Lorne Carr patrolling right wing for Billy Taylor andweeney Schirmer. Gus Binar will replace injured Nick Metz at centre between Bob Davidson and Ted Kennedy.

The Montreal-Toronto clash is the only Saturday N.H.L. fixture. Three Sunday games are scheduled, with Leafs visiting New York Rangers Sunday, Canadiens at Detroit Red Wings and Boston Bruins at Chicago Black Hawks.

The two-game schedule for Montreal gives Canadiens an opportunity to lengthen their lead on second-place Boston, undefeated in six games since Nov. 10.

but still a game behind Coach Dick Irvin's club. Boston holds a one-point edge on the dead-end Red Wings and Black Hawks.

Toronto, three games behind the joint leaders of third place, leads the cellar-dwelling Rangers by two points.

Colwood Golf Club To Charge Initiation

At a recent meeting of the directors of the Colwood Golf Club it was decided the club would return to prewar basis in view of the lifting of gasoline restrictions.

With the start of the new year an initiation fee will be charged all new members.

Scripture: Matthew 23:27-40; John 17; Acts 15:1-36; Philippians 2:12-18

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

FEW things are more remarkable in the recent history of religion and the churches than the way in which Christians of various creeds and communions, and churches of various denominations, have learned to work together.

Perhaps a word of personal experience and reminiscence will most effectively illustrate what has happened. I was reared in a small town in which there were four Protestant churches, Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist and Church of England, and one Catholic church.

Formerly there had been two Methodist and two Presbyterian churches, of respectively different brands; but the spirit of unity had begun to work and the Methodist churches and the Presbyterian churches, respectively, had united. But the Episcopal rector stood aloof from the other pastors; if the Methodist and Presbyterian ministers happened to be congenial and well-disposed persons, they met and conversed in a friendly way as they went to the post office for their mail; but there was virtually no association between their congregations.

The Methodist and Baptist ministers most of the time were hardly on speaking terms, because of their acute controversy over the manner of baptism and the amount of water to be used.

How all this had changed when I returned to my home town years later! I spoke in what had been my own home church, and the other Protestant churches had withdrawn their services to unite in this common service, and I was told that shortly before when one of the ministers was moving on to another parish the other churches and their ministers had united in a common service to wish him Godspeed.

That is what has happened in many communities, and it is all to the good. It does not mean that there are no longer differences, or that the Christians who thus co-operate see eye to eye; it does mean they see that there are things of more fundamental Christian importance than their differences, and they are willing to unite for common ends. As a matter of fact this drawing together began when Christians discovered that they had common interest in bringing their religion to bear to make a better community. In the work of social and moral reform denominational lines became no longer barriers.

What has happened in local communities has happened in the nation. The Federal Council of the Churches of Christ has represented the association and common effort of nearly 30 denominations when the war broke out, has survived all the hand-

Dr. Frank Buchman
Here Today With
M.R.A. Followers

Members of the Moral Re-armament Group from as far away as England and Australia gathered at the Empress Hotel today, to complete plans for the plays they will stage at the Royal Victoria Theatre, Sunday and Monday evenings.

Dr. Frank N. D. Buchman, founder of the Oxford Group, was expected here later today. Now the leader of the Moral Re-armament movement, Dr. Buchman has been in Vancouver this week with the 207 members who will visit Victoria this week-end. They expect to remain here until Tuesday.

First play to be presented Sunday at 8.45 at the Royal is "The Statesman's Dream." Moral Re-armament followers have described it as "prophetically showing how the unity of humanity alone will answer the danger of the split atom." Second play will be "Cowboys' Christmas," in which three cowboys discover "there'll be a new world beginning from tonight."

"And Still They Fight" is the title of the play to be given Monday at the Royal at 8.30. A true story of the Norwegian resistance movement under the Nazi heel this play is described as portraying the real factors which strengthen or soften a nation.

PART OF ASSEMBLY
The contingent visiting here are part of 2,000 who attended the Moral Re-armament world assembly at Mackinac Island, Mich., last summer. They have been touring principal cities of Canada and the United States.

Among those coming here are Peter Howard, former London Daily Express political commentator; Ivan Menzies, Australian actor; F.O. Gordon Wise, R.A.A.F., son of the premier of Western Australia, and Thorvald S. Pedersen, Danish businessman.

Capt. Loudon Hamilton, well-known among Oxford Groupers here from his previous visits, has been at the Empress since early this week. Other advance representatives who arrived earlier are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nanton, Winnipeg.

Necessity for provision of playgrounds for children in all parts of Oak Bay as a curb on juvenile delinquency was expressed today by C. V. Milton, candidate for councillor in Oak Bay. As a life-long educationalist, Mr. Milton believes it the duty of every governing body to contribute to the prevention of juvenile delinquency.

Veterans Organize 114th Association

An 114th Association, which will perpetuate the 114th (Inf) Reserve Company, Veterans' Guard of Canada, was formed at a successful "stand-down" dinner of the company held at the Armories Friday night.

George Yardley was named president, Jim Dewar, vice-president; W. C. Hudson, secretary; treasurer, and J. R. McIlreath, Les Scott and Jack Neary, committee.

The "stand-down" dinner was attended by 150 members and former members of the company and was preceded by a pay parade.

History of the company was reviewed by H. Pearson who recalled how it was formed in 1940 when it was feared that Ottawa did not fully recognize the national emergency existing on this coast at that time. Tribute was paid to Maj. G. Yardley, Maj. J. Dewar and Maj. J. R. McIlreath, who have commanded the company at different times since it was organized.

Among others mentioned as having a part in the formation of the company or being associated with it were W. N. Winsby, L. G. Scott, who was sergeant-major at the time it disbanded, L. Glazen, F. Dawson, J. Cleator, W. G. Stone, R. Knight, R. Clarke, H. Stokes and W. C. Hudson.

Farr Resigns From College for Law

Resignation of Prof. E. S. Farr, economics instructor at Victoria College, effective at the end of the present school year, has been announced, and Prof. Farr will enter the law firm of Moresby and O'Reilly.

Prof. Farr has been working with the law firm's office since Sept., 1944, having started his articles at that time. Since then he has qualified for entrance to the bar and expects his call January, 1946.

He was born and educated near Toronto and graduated in arts and law from the University of Toronto in 1915. He worked in a law office for three years in Edmonton, leaving that job in 1918 to take a school inspectorship in Alberta.

In 1922 he came to Victoria to join the Victoria High School, leaving there in 1924 to join the college staff, where he served as assistant principal for 17 years.

Judge Orders Fine On W.T.P.B. Charge

In a judgment handed down in County Court here today, Judge H. H. Shandley reversed a decision by Magistrate Hall which had dismissed a complaint against Albert Maynard, auctioneer, that he sold a refrigerator at a price higher than the ceiling laid down by the War-time Prices and Trade Board. He set Maynard's fine at $10 and costs totaling $50.

The case was a Crown appeal on the information of James Alexander Lidgate who had complained in the lower court that Maynard had sold a refrigerator to Gladys Townsend for $280.

In his judgment Shandley pointed out that it had been necessary to consider the true intent of the words in Section 6 of Order 337 of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board: "No person shall sell or offer to sell any goods at a price higher than is reasonable and just."

B.C. Bonds for Power Sell at High Rate

Securing one of the best rates in the history of the province for a 15-year loan, the B.C. government Friday sold $3,000,000 worth of bonds for power development to a Mills Spence and Co. Ltd. syndicate at 99.12 per 100.

The loan will be charged against the B.C. Power Commission, which will use the money for general development. It is the first loan for the commission set up last spring.

The loan works out to 3.07 per cent, which compares favorably with Dominion government loans when commissions and expenses are subtracted.

Other bids ranged from 99.11 to 98.59.

Drug Habit Very Difficult to Cure

Curing a drug addict takes 26 weeks. During the first 10 days of treatment the patient goes through untold pain and misery. He vomits, has hot and cold sweats, splitting heads, severe cramps and burning sensations of the stomach. But in 10 days he is completely off the drug. The remaining time of 23 weeks is necessary to rebuild the system both bodily and mentally.

The complete case history of Dr. Brown, an addict, and the 26 weeks' cure told day by day, is presented for your instruction and reading interest on page 82 of this week's Collier's, now available at all magazine dealers.

Collier's Magazine is distributed on Vancouver Island by Lovick's News Agency, Victoria, B.C.

Will Be Candidate

W. J. Dunn, resident of Saanich for more than 26 years and for many years a director of the Gordon Head Fruit Growers' Association, announced Friday he would run for councillor in Saanich Ward Five.

During the war Mr. Dunn took an active part in seed-growing and was island representative on the British Columbia Seed Growers' Association board of directors, and of the B.C. Co-operative Seed Growers' Association. He is a member of the Amputations Association of Canada.

Letters of congratulation on his re-election as mayor of Victoria reached Mayor Percy George today, including one from Mayor J. W. Cornett of Vancouver.

'Man In Grey' At York Monday

One of the most interesting scenes in "The Man In Grey," coming to the York Theatre on Monday, is the Epsom Down sequence on Derby Day—a Derby Day in the nineteenth century, when the course was cluttered with side shows and very different from the Epsom that we know today.

A great deal of research work was necessary before these sequences could be shot and the studio property department had to make many of the gags and toys used as prizes in the fair booths. The grotesque heads used in the Aunt Sally booth were copied from Rowlandson caricatures of the period and old fashioned caravans were unearthed from a camp near Hounslow.

Starring in "The Man In Grey" are Margaret Lockwood, James Mason and Phyllis Calvert and the film was directed by Leslie Arliss.

PLAZA THEATRE

Columbia Pictures' "Rhythm Round-Up," action musical, now at the Plaza Theatre, will have its last performance tonight. The cast is headed by Ken Curtis, Cheryl Walker, the Hoosier Hotshots from the National Barn Dance, Guinn (Big Boy) Williams, Raymond Hatton, Victor Potel, the Pied Pipers and Bob Wills and his Texas playboys. The screenplay was adapted by Charles Marion from "Louise Rousseau's" story. Vernon Keays directed.

CADET THEATRE

ATLAS THEATRE

Evidently there was no cigarette shortage in the "era of wonder" when Texas Guinan was queen of the night clubs. Texas, whose colorful career is being portrayed by Betty Hutton in "Incendiary Blonde," now exciting and delighting audiences at the Atlas Theatre, is known to have taken only three puffs from a single cigarette. As a result, La Hutton's cigarette bill during the filming of the picture, in which she is co-starred with Arturo de Cordova, was trebled.

Appearing with Betty and de Cordova in the technicolor hit are Charles Ruggles, Albert Dekker, Barry "Going My Way" Fitzgerald, Mary Phillips and other noteworthy performers.

Plan to Integrate Physical Education

Integration of school and post-school physical education programs is the aim of a meeting which Education Minister George M. Weir announced today he intends to call shortly.

"The aim would be to avoid any undesirable duplication between school programs and other activities, for instance, by the Pro-Rec, the proposed community centres and similar organizations," said Dr. Weir.

He announced he proposed to invite representatives from such groups as school boards, service clubs, ratepayers organizations, community centre groups, veterans and other bodies.

The meeting will probably be convened under the chairmanship of Dr. Weir or Col. F. T. Fairley, deputy minister of education, about the middle of January.

Veterans Give Esquimalt Bumper Crop of Candidates

Desire to aid in the rehabilitation of ex-servicemen has resulted in a bumper crop of candidates for Esquimalt Council this year, including two retired permanent army men and two retired permanent navy men.

Thomas Hadfield, present incumbent, is to date the only contestant, announcing his candidature for the reeveship, but nine persons so far have announced they will run for three two-year terms and one one-year term on the council. Nomination day is not until Monday, between 12 noon and 2, with the elections to be held Dec. 15.

There is one candidate so far for the one vacancy on the police commission and two for the three seats vacant on the school board.

Reeve Hadfield, 354 Lampson Street, who has been active in municipal affairs for a quarter of a century, and for years served as chairman of the finance committee, took office as reeve in 1944 on the death of Alex Lockwood, filling out the latter's term. He was elected in a two-way contest in December of 1944, and during the past year, with his council, has consistently pressed for federal aid in lieu of taxes on property used by the naval and military authorities in Esquimalt.

COUNCILLORS

Councillor G. H. Smith, 531 Joffre Street, candidate for re-election, who for the past two years has served as chairman of the parks and playgrounds committee, has 16 years' municipal and government experience. He served nine years on council and five years on police commission.

Councillor G. V. Bishop, 445 Fraser, also seeking re-election, came on the council two years ago, and served on the parks and playgrounds committee.

Donald A. MacLeod, 892 Admirals Road, former councillor, who took a prominent part in the civil defence set-up in Esquimalt, will run for election, as will Cmdr. A. C. Wurtela, R.C.N., retired, 321 Armit Street, who will run for the vacancy created by the resignation of C. Halshaw.

LI-Col. E. J. Reid, O.B.E., who came within 10 votes of being elected for the reeveship in 1939, will also run for council. He was called out of retirement at the outbreak of war.

Announcing his candidature today was Earl M. Briggs, 709 Dominion Road, former chief petty officer telegraphist in the R.C.N., who will enter municipal politics for the first time. He was in the navy 24 years.

R. G. Humphreys, 616 Grenville, retired army man, who will contest the election, was serving the second year of his term on the council when he was called to service at the outbreak of war. In the army for 32 years, he has resided in Esquimalt for 20 years.

F. W. Barker, at present a member of the Esquimalt Police Commission, brings to nine the number running for council. He has been seven years on the commission and has another year of his present term to run.

E. Durling, 629 Grenville, whose first term on the police commission expired this year, will seek re-election, and to date no other candidate has put forth his name.

Mrs. R. McVie, 922, who has just completed two years on the board of school trustees, has filed nomination papers, and Mrs. W. J. Parry, 922 Lyall, who has served four years on the board, may run again. It is not yet known whether Peter Johnston, whose term expires this year, will run again.

Tenant Threatened To Kill Landlady; Plenty of Drinking

In Judge L. A. Hanna's rentals court here Friday an elderly landlady complained that one of her tenants had threatened to break every bone in her body. The tenant had also cursed her, stacked up 30 whisky bottles outside her door and burned the electric lights all night.

The landlady called another tenant to give evidence. He said the offending tenant and her husband had "started drinking on V.J. night and had gotten worse ever since." One night 10 cab drivers had come to his apartment to use the phone. Each had ordered up to three bottles of liquor. The same evening he had heard swearing in the woman's apartment. He had also heard her threaten to kill the landlady.

"Listen, Judge," said the offending tenant. "I admit I had a little party. All I want is two months to find another place. My two nephews had come back from overseas and my two nieces were here from Montreal. I also had some friends in. Any fighting was done right in the apartment."

"How much liquor do you consume in a week?" asked counsel for the landlady.

"I haven't even used this month's permit yet," was the reply.

WANTED SON-IN-LAW OUT

Through an interpreter a Chinese landlady explained that she wanted to have her son-in-law removed from a house she owned on Pembroke Street. She told Judge Hanna he was estranged from her daughter and had damaged the premises during the November cold spell by not turning off all the water in the house.

The son-in-law admitted the differences with his wife, but said he had only moved from the house temporarily. He claimed he had gone back and looked after the house during the bad weather.

A Central Avenue landlady complained of noise and lack of co-operation from tenants with whom she shared the downstairs of her house.

The woman, who rented the rooms, told Judge Hanna she and her husband had found their room filthy when they had moved in last summer. The linoleum was "putrid" and had to be removed while the paint work was a "disgrace." She said the landlady's dog had upset her garbage pail and dragged its contents into her kitchen.

Says U.S. Troops Visiting Canada, Goodwill Envoys

"They are the best ambassadors of goodwill Canada ever had," said William Stapleton, general passenger agent, Canadian National Railways, Vancouver, discussing the thousands of Americans—troops, engineers and construction men—who have passed through and worked in British Columbia during the course of the war.

In the days when it was feared that the Japanese might attack Alaska, the Americans, with Canada's co-operation, shipped men and material north in a steady stream, using Canadian lines and equipment to do it. As is now known, Prince Rupert, Canadian National western terminal and nearest port to the Far East, was for a considerable period to all intent and purposes an American town, through which was funneled great quantities of war supplies, also men. Then again, in the construction of the Alaska Highway, and the Canal project, an army of Americans were on the job.
